

April 12, 2006

United Space Alliance awards the prestigious 2005 Small Disadvantaged Business of the Year to GB Tech.

“GB Tech has provided outstanding flight software engineering support and logistics support to USA since 1996. Their support encompasses numerous areas such as certification, verification and reconfiguration testing of shuttle flight software, designing and maintaining software tools for avionics software products, risk assessments, and warehouse operations that include transportation and logistics support functions.”